Mr. Raymond Laframboise,
Health and Welfare,
Ottawa.

16 November 1987

Dear Mr. Laframboise,

Persuant to our phone conversation today, I would only comment that you appear to be insincere in your expression of concern for people who have suffered damages as a result of statements by Health and Welfare on the subject of environmental hypersensitivity.

Any suggestion I made for action to end actions by Health and Welfare which are damaging to people with this disability were countered with comments about how the action would be inappropriate.

Sometimes you even contradicted yourself in your determination to deflect this concern, for instance when you said it would be pointless to discuss the matter with Maureen Law, because she already knew about the problem, and then said it would be pointless to discuss the matter with her because she wouldn't know anything about it.

It is precisely this irresponsible attitude which has been our ongoing problem with your department. When we've complained, the determination of H/C staff to continue acting irresponsibly has only made matters worse.

The damage continues.

Thanks,

DUPLICATE
